

The IRC in Atlanta and Innovation Law Lab

Release Project

Are you or a loved one currently being held in one of Georgia's ICE detention centers? The IRC's Release Project may be able to help you to request release from custody.

You or a family member may be eligible for assistance if:

- You or your family member are detained at Stewart Detention Center, Irwin Detention Center or Folkston ICE Processing Center
- You or your family member do not already have an immigration attorney AND
- You or your family member cannot afford to hire an immigration attorney

In collaboration with Innovation Law Lab, the International Rescue Committee (IRC) in Atlanta offers limited scope representation to help detained immigrants request release from Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) custody in Georgia.

IRC's Release Project does not provide legal representation in immigration court.

If you meet the criteria above,
please contact:

Release.Project@Rescue.org

+1 470 596 1838

Rescue.org/Atlanta